"Absolutely phenomenal." Chambers and Partners

Alexis Hearnden is an experienced advocate with a successful regulatory and public law practice. She acts for regulators and those they regulate across a range of professions, including solicitors, doctors, dentists, fertility clinics, architects, vets, and osteopaths before tribunals, in judicial review proceedings and in statutory appeals. In the world of sport, she advises sport national governing bodies, particularly in safeguarding matters.

Alexis regularly represents family members, local authorities, health authorities and the Official Solicitor in the Court of Protection, which complements her broader public law work in the areas of mental health, community care and healthcare.

She is recommended as a leading junior by Chambers & Partners in the areas of Professional Discipline and in the Court of Protection, and by The Legal 500 for Professional Discipline. Alexis was nominated for Professional Discipline Junior of the Year at the Chambers UK Bar Awards 2020.

Community care and mental health

Community care work overlaps with Alexis's Court of Protection practice. She acts for individuals, local government and healthcare organisations in judicial reviews across a range of areas including prisons, childcare, accommodation and healthcare services.

She advises in respect of the ordinary residence test and obligations under the Children Act 1989, the National Assistance Act 1948 and the Care Act 2014, including where the service user lacks capacity.

Mental health work includes representing patients and local authorities in applications to displace nearest relatives and in habeas corpus proceedings with tribunal experience focusing on high security patients.

Recommendations
