"A genuine rising star – highly intelligent and extremely thorough, she is always willing to go the extra mile." The Legal 500

"The level of technical detail that she can absorb, digest and quickly turn around advice on is phenomenal. Whatever the subject and whatever the issue, she just gets it instantly." Chambers and Partners

Catherine Dobson has a broad practice which combines general public law, regulatory and environmental law.

She was called to the Bar in 2009 and since then has been instructed in some of the leading cases in these fields, including Privacy International v Investigatory Powers Tribunal (the leading Supreme Court decision on the constitutionality of ouster clauses), R (Miller) v The Prime Minister (challenging the prorogation of Parliament on behalf of the Shadow Attorney General, Re Y [2018] UKSC 46 (the landmark Supreme Court decision concerning withdrawal of life-sustaining medical treatment), and R (London Borough of Hillingdon and others) v Secretary of State for Transport (challenging the Government's decision to support a third runway at Heathrow Airport).

Catherine has been ranked as a leading junior for several years by Chambers & Partners. She is a member of the Attorney General's A Panel of Counsel and the Attorney General's Public International Law C Panel of Counsel.

In 2020 Catherine was named Environmental and Planning Law Junior of the Year in the Chambers UK Bar Awards.

Catherine is a Fellow of St Edmund's College, Cambridge, where she supervises constitutional law.

Areas of expertise

Public Law and Human Rights

Environmental Law

Public Inquiries

International Arbitration and Public International Law

Environmental Law

Catherine has acted in some of the leading environmental cases in recent years including Friends of the Earth v Secretary of State for Business, Energy and Industrial Strategy (acting for Friends for the Earth in the successful challenge to the Government's Net Zero Strategy and R (London Borough of Hillingdon and others) v Secretary of State for Transport (the Government's decision to support a third runway at Heathrow Airport).

She has detailed knowledge of international, European and domestic environmental law and is has advised in cases raising issues under the Aarhus Convention, the SEA Directive, the EIA Directive and the Habitats Directive. In addition to this general experience, she has particular expertise in the following areas:

Water resources

Catherine has considerable experience working in the field of water rights and regulation, having appeared in two of the most important cases in this field : Canal & Rivers Trust v Thames Water Utilities Ltd [2018] EWCA Civ 342 and Manchester Ship Canal v United Utilities plc [2014] UKSC 40. She worked on a 12 month instruction acting for Southern Water Services Ltd, culminating in a public inquiry concerning the interface between environmental legislation and the water abstraction licensing regime.

Air Quality

Catherine has expertise in the legal and scientific issues arising in relation to health-related air quality limits. Recent work has included advising on the application of the National Emission Ceilings Regulations 2018, acting for the claimant in a human rights challenge arising from hydrogen sulphide pollution and challenging the Government's decision to support a third runway at Heathrow on, amongst other grounds, the basis that the Government's approach to air quality was flawed.

Nuisance

Since her involvement in the landmark case of Barr v Biffa [2012] EWCA 312, Catherine has gone on to act for a number of claimants and defendants in a group private nuisance claims relating to the operation of a range of businesses including landfill sites, waste treatment sites and food production sites.

Nuclear law

Catherine has a particular interest in the nuclear sector. She has advised both Government departments and private companies on issues relating to domestic and international law regulation of the sector. In addition, she devised and delivered a six-part training programme for in-house lawyers at a nuclear new-build facility and devised and delivered a one-day round table conference on nuclear cyber liability in conjunction with the Washington DC based Stimpson institute and spoken at a number of industry conferences on the implications of Brexatom. In 2023, she delivered a paper to the International Nuclear Law Association on the future regulation of small modular reactors in the UK.
