Stephen Tromans QC is recognised as a leading practitioner in environmental, energy and planning law. His clients include major utilities and industrial companies in the UK and elsewhere, banks, insurers, Government departments and agencies, local authorities, NGOs and individuals. He has been involved in some of the leading cases in matters such as environmental impact assessment, habitats, nuisance, and waste, in key projects such as proposals for new nuclear powerstations, and in high-profile incidents such as the Buncefield explosion and the Trafigura case.

Daniel Stedman Jones specialises in planning and environmental law and regularly acts in public inquiry, High Court and Court of Appeal proceedings. He is the co-editor of Sweet & Maxwell's Planning Law: Practice and Precedents and a contributory editor of The Environmental Law Encyclopedia. He is also a contributor to Shackleton on the Law of Meetings. Daniel also practices in public, regulatory and competition law, with a particular emphasis on the energy sector. Daniel is a member of the Attorney General's 'C Panel' of Counsel. Before coming to the bar, Daniel completed a PhD at the University of Pennsylvania including an Urban Studies Certificate

Jonathan Darby's broad practice encompasses all aspects of public and administrative law. His planning, environmental and property practice encompasses inquiries, statutory appeals, judicial review, enforcement proceedings and advisory work. Jonathan is instructed by a wide variety of domestic and international clients, including developers, consultants, local authorities and the Treasury Solicitor. Before coming to the Bar, Jonathan taught at Cambridge University whilst completing a PhD at Queens' College.
