Injunctions against touting

*Jockey Club Racecourses Ltd
v
Persons Unknown*

Victoria Hutton, 39 Essex Chambers

On 24 October 2018 Mr Justice Nugee granted an interim injunction to Jockey Club Racecourses Limited ('JCR') to prevent the touting of tickets at land owned by them at Cheltenham Racecourse. In this article we consider the wider implications of this ground-breaking judgment and the effectiveness of an injunction in preventing touting at a sporting stadium/arena/racecourse.

GETTING TO KNOW OUR PANEL

Ian Wilson is a Director of England Hockey and Chair of its Safeguarding Case Management Panel. He represents the governing body at all independent safeguarding disciplinary hearings. He has been a member of Sports Resolutions' National Safeguarding Panel since its inception in 2013 working across a range of sports.

Ian Wilson,
Director at England Hockey

1. What was the motivation behind joining Sport Resolutions' panel as a specialist member?

I wanted to bring the perspective of an NGB to the panel. I've chaired England Hockey's Case Management Panel for 12 years so I understand the difficulties and issues faced in safeguarding situations which are often grey and complex.

You have a duty to protect the children involved in your sport and it's challenging trying to do that in the real world but you can see the importance of it on a daily basis. I also wanted to support an initiative that provided a fair process for those involved and sought to be child centred.

2. How has your professional experience prior to joining Sport Resolutions' panel had an impact on the manner in which you approach sport disputes/matters?

I am also the Chair of my local club so I understand the importance of volunteers and the critical role that they play in all sports. It can be really difficult to.. Read more..
