Geoffrey has many years' experience across a wide range of personal injury litigation. This extends to employer's, public, products and motor liabilities, as well as accidents abroad. Areas of particular interest include construction and transport industry accidents (highways/rail industry), stress claims and (latterly) labour trafficking. He deals with a full gamut of credibility and honesty issues (up to and including fundamental dishonesty). Often, there are overlapping issues with insurance coverage. Brain injuries or pain states are a common feature, while he also deals with the more serious orthopaedic injuries (including amputation).
