"A genuine rising star – highly intelligent and extremely thorough, she is always willing to go the extra mile." The Legal 500

"The level of technical detail that she can absorb, digest and quickly turn around advice on is phenomenal. Whatever the subject and whatever the issue, she just gets it instantly." Chambers and Partners

Catherine Dobson has a broad practice which combines general public law, regulatory and environmental law.

She was called to the Bar in 2009 and since then has been instructed in some of the leading cases in these fields, including Privacy International v Investigatory Powers Tribunal (the leading Supreme Court decision on the constitutionality of ouster clauses), R (Miller) v The Prime Minister (challenging the prorogation of Parliament on behalf of the Shadow Attorney General, Re Y [2018] UKSC 46 (the landmark Supreme Court decision concerning withdrawal of life-sustaining medical treatment), and R (London Borough of Hillingdon and others) v Secretary of State for Transport (challenging the Government's decision to support a third runway at Heathrow Airport).

Catherine has been ranked as a leading junior for several years by Chambers & Partners. She is a member of the Attorney General's A Panel of Counsel and the Attorney General's Public International Law C Panel of Counsel.

In 2020 Catherine was named Environmental and Planning Law Junior of the Year in the Chambers UK Bar Awards.

Catherine is a Fellow of St Edmund's College, Cambridge, where she supervises constitutional law.

International Arbitration and Public International Law

Catherine has a growing international practice with particular interests in energy and infrastructure projects and the interface between public international law, domestic public law and environmental law.

She was recently instructed on behalf of the Government of Myanmar for the Provisional Measures phase of The Gambia v Myanmar proceedings, concerning the application of the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide.

Examples of her practice include:

- Advising a government department on legal issues surrounding the UK's potential accession to an international treaty.
- Advising on the implications of US withdrawal from the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action. Advising on instituting proceedings before the International Court of Justice.
- Advising in relation to the scope of the foreign act of state doctrine in UK domestic law.
- Communication to the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe Aarhus Convention Compliance Committee.
- Appointment as permanent Secretary to an ad hoc arbitration under the UNCITRAL Rules relating to a multi-million pound construction dispute that lasted four years.
- ICC arbitration proceedings relating to a multi-million pound construction dispute concerning termination and delay issues.
- Advising in relation to prospective claim arising out of multi-billion dollar construction project in the Middle East involving defects and delay issues.
- Advising in relation to allocation of risk under a contract for a multi-million dollar construction project in the Middle East.

International Criminal Court

Before coming to the bar, Catherine worked as a legal assistant on the defence team of Thomas Lubanga Dyilo at the International Criminal Court, working on the first trial to take place before the Court. This included work on the application of the Rome Statute and the Rules of Procedure and Evidence and the Regulations of the Court and Registry; the status of the enrolment of child soldiers as a crime in customary international law; the nature of the armed conflict in the Ituri region of DRC; the existence of a right to interlocutory appeal on a decision to confirm charges in the Rome Statute; the modalities of victim participation at the ICC; and, the conditions for provisional release under the Rome Statute.
