Email: rebecca.cattermole@39essex.com

“Rebecca is exceptionally intelligent and knows how to translate complex matters into straightforward language for our clients.” Chambers UK 2023

Rebecca is recognised as a leading junior in property and agricultural work. She specialises in property and all aspects of landlord and tenant law. She has a particular interest in developments and agricultural land focusing on restrictive and freehold covenants, easements and complex issues surrounding the recovery of land.

Recent notable cases include the first appellate case in England and Wales on the availability of equitable set-off to defeat a notice to quit pursuant to Case D, Sch.3 Agricultural Holdings Act 1986, Spencer v Secretary of State for Defence [2019] EWHC 1526 (Ch); [2019] 1 WLR 6065; the proprietary estoppel case of Windsor-Clive v Rees [2021] EWHC 3180 (Ch); forfeiture/ subletting case of Bedford v Paragon Asra Housing Ltd [2022] L&TR 7 and the recent Court of Appeal decision in Stampfer v Avon Ground Rents [2022] EWCA Civ 1375; [2022] 1 WLR 68 on recovery of administration charges for collection of ground rents.

Rebecca is a contributor to three editions of Service Charge and Management: Law & Practice, Halsbury's Laws and Jowitt's Dictionary of English Law (Landlord and Tenant).

Rebecca is a fellow of the Agricultural Law Association and member of the Property Bar Association and Ecclesiastical Law Association.

She has been recommended in real estate and agriculture in Chambers UK and Legal 500 (Tier 1) for a number of years.
