Environment

“A great fighter and takes every point, you would always want him on your side.” Legal 500 2023
(Environment)

Jon is ranked as a leading junior for environmental law (Chambers and Partners and The Legal 500).

Frequently instructed as both sole and junior counsel, Jon advises a range of clients across all aspects of environmental law, including those arising directly through the planning process (including environmental impact assessment and habitats assessments), and those arising from regulatory and commercial aspects. He acts in associated judicial reviews, planning and other appeals, nuisance and other common law claims.

Jon provides advocacy, drafts pleadings, and advises on liability, quantum and settlement in high-value and complex disputes across a range of subject matters, including nuisance (public and private), flooding, property damage (including subsidence) and environmental torts (including those relating to waste).

Jon's wider public law practice provides him with a particular expertise in statutory challenges and applications for judicial review, in relation to which he has acted for claimants, defendants and interested parties.

Recent inquiries and cases of note:

- Eccles Wastewater Treatment Works - Seven-week CPO inquiry in relation to discharge rights, acting on behalf of United Utilities (as junior to James Strachan QC).
- G Forge Ltd – Judicial Review claim in relation to Stanford West Lorry Park - Instructed on behalf of an interested party in a judicial review brought on environmental impact assessment (EIA) grounds as a result of which the Secretary of State for Transport and Highways England pulled plans to build a lorry parking area for around 3,600 lorries at Stanford West in Kent.
- London Gateway Port - Advising and acting on behalf of London Gateway Port (as junior to Stephen Tromans QC) in relation to nuisance claims brought by shellfish fishermen.
- Strongroom Studios - Ongoing representation of Strongroom Studios, advising in relation to the interaction between the nuisance, environmental and planning regimes, including as it arises in relation to adjacent development proposals.
