Rosie practises public and human rights law in its broadest sense, with a particular interest in Court of Protection, health and social care, education and judicial review work. She is a robust and thorough advocate, meticulous in preparation.

Rosie graduated at the top of her year from Magdalen College, Oxford in Ancient and Modern History. She then converted to law, with a “Distinction” on the GDL and “Outstanding” on the BPTC from City Law School.

Since commencing practice in September 2016, Rosie has appeared as sole counsel in the High Court, Court of Protection, County Courts, Crown and Magistrates’ Courts, and before the First-Tier Tribunal (Special Educational Needs and Disability), Mental Health Tribunals and Planning Inspectorate for England (PINS) Inspectors.

Rosie also advises and acts on Property & Affairs matters, including issues arising from making and revoking Lasting Powers of Attorney (LPAs) and Deputyships.

Rosie advised and acted for the local authority, already deputy for P, in an application to appoint two trustees under TOLATA 1996 to enable the sale of P’s property, held in common with the elder of P’s two estranged daughters. Rosie identified and sensitively addressed the concerns of P’s younger daughter about how P’s right to her share of the proceeds would be protected during and after the property’s sale, bringing about agreement and resolution to a long-standing impasse between the daughters and local authority.

Appearing on behalf of a local authority, Rosie succeeded in obtaining a Deputyship order to manage P’s property, and defeated P’s son’s application, where P no longer had any relationship with her son and in the context of long-standing concerns of financial abuse.

Rosie has advised a local authority acting as Deputy for P in relation to rectifying a Land Registry entry for a property fraudulently transferred out of P's name by a relative.
