“A very hard working lawyer, who is always ready to go the extra mile for her client. Her written advocacy is of a high standard and she is able to break some complicated issues and present them in a simplified and persuasive manner.” The Legal 500 UK 2022

Karishma has a busy commercial disputes and civil fraud practice representing companies and individuals in high value cases before the commercial court and in arbitration.

She specialises in banking, private equity, mergers and acquisitions (M&A), breach of guarantee and fraud disputes. Her sector expertise is in defence, metals and commodities, mining, technology, crypto, pharmaceuticals, distribution and diamonds. She has vast experience in cross border investments and transactions and is sought after by banks and borrowers, private equity funds and family offices alike. She is particularly known for her strategy in complex, multi-jurisdictional litigation and arbitration.

Karishma is typically instructed on jurisdiction challenges, applications for service out, anti-suit and summary judgment applications, Norwich Pharmacal claims and freezing injunctions through to trial. She appears on a led basis and equally leads teams in heavy trials and interim proceedings, depending on the nature of the case.

Karishma frequently works with lawyers from foreign jurisdictions. She has the rare expertise of being triple qualified in England, India and the Dubai International Financial Centre (DIFC) and has reported judgments in all three jurisdictions. Karishma is ranked by the Legal 500 in three practice areas in the UK - banking and finance, commercial litigation and civil fraud, and for commercial litigation in the Middle East and Africa (band 1). Her international practice includes running a set of chambers in India.

Karishma's significant international arbitration expertise includes being appointed as an arbitrator and as counsel in arbitrations seated in London, Singapore, Dubai and India. She has worked on cases governed by the London Court of International Arbitration (LCIA), International Chamber of Commerce (ICC), Singapore International Arbitration Centre (SIAC), London Metal Exchange (LME), Refined Sugar Association (RSA), London Maritime Arbitrators Association (LMAA), Indian Council of Arbitration (ICA) and Mumbai Centre for International Arbitration (MCIA) rules. She is empanelled as an arbitrator with many of these institutions and sits as a sole arbitrator or on a panel.

Karishma is an alumna of the London School of Economics where she also taught commercial law. She serves on Combar's India and Middle East sub-committees and is the only woman appointed to the advisory council of the ICA
