"Michael is brilliant in trials, gives excellent written advice, is very approachable and willing to help." The Legal 500 2023

Michael practises across the full range of chambers' civil liability and commercial work with a particular interest in cases where fraud is alleged or suspected.

He undertakes work in insurance fraud, personal injury, clinical negligence, commercial and financial services, sports law, costs, and regulatory and disciplinary matters. He represents claimants and defendants in trials, joint settlement meetings (JSMs) and all interim hearings. He has a substantial paperwork practice.

He regularly acts as sole counsel in significant brain and spinal cord injury cases with a value pleaded in excess of £1m, as well as being led in higher value cases.

He has substantial experience of working as part of a larger team on high-profile and sensitive investigations, particularly involving financial institutions, and is currently instructed in a complex banking investigation.

Michael graduated with first class honours in Law, and the prize for the top student pursuing a career at the Bar. He was previously employed by a leading city boutique law firm in the business crime and commercial litigation departments. He also spent time working on policy development for a human rights non-governmental organisation (NGO), campaigning for fairer justice systems.

Michael undertakes the full range of defendant insurance fraud work. He is regularly instructed at the outset of claims where fraud is suspected to advise on tactics and strategy. Early in his career, Michael gained significant experience prosecuting and defending criminal matters in the Crown Court. Accordingly, he is well accustomed to allegations of the most serious dishonesty, and skilled at cross-examination to expose inconstancy, exaggeration and untruthfulness.

He has achieved numerous findings of fundamental dishonesty in cases involving:

- Exaggerated injuries
- Malingering
- Staged accidents
- Phantom passengers
- Surveillance evidence
- Telematics evidence
- Fraud rings.

He is experienced in the full range of costs arguments including wasted costs applications and/or third-party costs orders.

He has achieved numerous findings of fundamental dishonesty, both at trial, and following discontinuance by claimants.

Cases of note

- C v DKT Ltd - Acting for the defendant in an application for a finding of fundamental dishonesty, post-discontinuance of the claim. The claimant attended the hearing and elected to give evidence and be cross examined. The judge found that the claimant had been fundamentally dishonest in substantially exaggerating his claim. An enforceable cost order was made.
- R v AIOI - Finding of fundamental dishonesty at trial, regarding a road traffic collision. A significant dispute as to the mechanics of the accident led to a finding that the claimant had fabricated his version of events.
- B v R - Successful application for a finding of fundamental dishonesty where the claimant discontinued shortly before trial. Claimant did not attend the hearing or submit any further evidence. The judge was persuaded to make a finding of fundamental dishonesty and an enforceable cost order.
