"Katherine is a brilliant advocate." Chambers and Partners

"Katherine is an excellent barrister and a pleasure to work with. She is dedicated and works hard. She is responsive, insightful, and you can trust her to get the best possible results." Legal 500

Katherine is a public law specialist. She has an exceptionally diverse practice which ranges from commercial regulatory work (including planning, environment and procurement) to public interest and human rights matters.

She is recognised by Chambers and Partners and/or Legal 500 in the fields of public law, civil liberties & human rights, planning, environment, community care and education.

Katherine graduated from Queens' College, Cambridge with a first class degree in French and Spanish before converting to law. She then obtained an LLM with distinction in public law and human rights from the London School of Economics.

She has appeared as sole counsel in the Court of Appeal, High Court, Upper Tribunal, Court of Protection, County Court, Crown Court and Magistrates Courts.

As former co-chair of Young Legal Aid Lawyers, Katherine is committed to access to justice and legal aid work. She is also a member of the Equality and Human Rights Commission's panel of counsel.

Procurement

Katherine acts for contracting authorities and economic operators. She particularly enjoys cases that overlap with her other areas of practice, such as development of land and NHS contracts. For example, recent work in this area has included:

- Advising on a potential breach of The Concession Contracts Regulations 2016 in relation to a major new leisure complex.
- Advising on the implications for disposal of a theatre having been listed as an asset of community value under The Assets of Community Value (England) Regulations 2012.

Recommendations

Katherine is listed by Chambers and Partners and The Legal 500 in public law, civil liberties & human rights, planning, environment, community care and education:

"She gives strategic advice, is very pleasant to work with and is very helpful with the client." Chambers and Partners 2022.

"She is extremely thorough, has great attention to detail and an exceptional understanding of the core issues in her cases. She is also a pleasure to work with." Chambers and Partners 2022.

"Her strengths are clarity of advice, willingness to think outside of the box, and her ability to resolve an issue expediently." The Legal 500 2022.

"Katherine is an excellent barrister and a pleasure to work with. She is dedicated and works hard. She is responsive, insightful, and you can trust her to get the best possible results." The Legal 500 2021.
