Gethin Thomas has a multidisciplinary practice, encompassing public law & human rights, environment & energy, procurement, commercial, financial services, regulatory and planning law.

Reflecting the breadth of his practice, Gethin has acted as sole or junior counsel in proceedings in the Court of Appeal, and in the High Court (in the Administrative Court, Commercial Court, Queen's Bench Division, and Technology & Construction Court).

He is ranked as a 'rising star' in environmental law by the Legal 500.

Gethin is a member of the Attorney General's C Panel of Counsel, and of the Welsh Government's B Panel of Junior Counsel.

Gethin graduated from the University of Oxford with a First Class law degree. Before joining the bar, Gethin worked as a research assistant in public law at the Law Commission for two years. Latterly, Gethin interned at the human rights charity JUSTICE. He worked in the administrative justice team.

Gethin is a contributing editor to the Environmental Law Bulletin (published by Sweet & Maxwell). He has also contributed to the latest editions of Wilmot-Smith on Construction Contracts (4th edition, May 2021), and Shackleton on the Law and Practice of Meetings (15th Edition, November 2020).

Commercial

Gethin is regularly instructed in commercial matters. Gethin has appeared as both sole and junior counsel in commercial proceedings in the High Court (in the Technology and Construction Court (TCC), Commercial, and Queen's Bench Division). He also frequently appears in commercial and construction matters in the County Court. He has extensive experience of drafting pleadings, and frequently advises on a broad range of commercial matters, often complex and high value. Examples of recent instructions are listed below.

In addition, he has particular experience in financial services, having acted as consultant counsel to the Financial Ombudsman Service. He has advised on a wide range of matters under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000. He also regularly advises on complex agency issues.

Gethin is currently instructed as a member of the legal team from 39 Essex Chambers offering legal advice and support to the Foskett Panel. Further information is available online here: www.foskettpanel.com.

Gethin has also been instructed in a number of contractual claims arising out of the Covid-19 pandemic, on behalf of both claimants and defendants, in which issues of frustration and force majeure are in dispute.

Gethin has experience of international arbitration. His recent instructions include acting as sole counsel in a commercial London Court of International Arbitration (LCIA) arbitration, and as junior counsel in an ad hoc arbitration in the energy sector. Gethin also has experience of arbitration enforcement action in the High Court. During pupillage, Gethin assisted on a major ICC arbitration concerning payment disputes, delay and variation claims (while supervised by Rachael O'Hagan). He was involved in the matter in the lead-up to and throughout the trial.

Gethin's recent instructions include:

- UNCITRAL arbitration (energy sector): As junior counsel, in an ad hoc arbitration in the energy sector, led by Gordon Nardell KC.
