First, determine what the sexual matter to be assessed Is there some reason not to Ian Brownhill apply the usual question of: does P have capacity to engage in sexual relations? @counseltweets Yes No Assess: capacity to consent to sexual relations / some other Is there some reason not to do a specific question e.g around a generalised assessment of capacity particular sexual act like autoto engage in sexual relations? erotic asphyxia Yes: Tailor relevant No: Apply generalised test information to circumstances of relevant information to of P's particular sexual engage in sex relationship (Will include P and potential (Will include P and partner's partner's consent)

BARRISTERS ARBITRATORS MEDIATOR

consent)

39essex.com