

SCL (SINGAPORE) CONSTRUCTION LAW CONFERENCE 2018

"COLLABORATION AND TECHNOLOGY IN CONSTRUCTION LAW & PRACTICE- WHERE TO NEXT ?"

Wednesday, 12 September 2018, 9.00 a.m. to 7.00 p.m.
Legends Ballroom, Hotel Fort Canning, 11 Canning Walk Singapore 178881

About this Conference

Technology is disrupting a wide range of industries, and the construction industry is no exception. This year's SCL (Singapore) Annual Conference will explore the impact of technology to date, as well as consider possible transformations that are still to come. It will discuss how forms of contracting are adapting to change through a move to more collaborative models, and – by popular demand! – include a recap of key legal developments from the past year.

This Conference will feature 4 main sessions:

- Technology in Construction Practice
- Collaborative Contracting - Aspiration, Myth or Reality?
- Updates on Developments in Construction Law in Singapore
- Use of Technology for Construction Dispute Resolution

This Conference aims to bring together legal practitioners and construction industry stalwarts from around Asia to discuss the changing face of the construction industry.

Who Should Attend

- Architects, developers, contractors, engineers, project managers, consultants, managing agents, management corporations and other professionals involved in the construction industry who deal with legal, regulatory and contractual issues
- Construction consultants
- Law, building & construction academics and students
- In-house counsel & legal officers working in the construction industry
- Lawyers

With BCA's continued push to encourage the widespread adoption of IDD, we see increased investment in data analytics and technology upgrades in the construction sector as a means of improving project delivery and contract management. To what extent do technological advancements alter the balance of risk in the execution of construction contracts? What new challenges do these advancements present from a legal and risk management perspective? What are the key challenges that must be addressed by the design consultants and contractors in order to achieve BCA's objectives under the Construction Industry Transformation Map? We intend to explore these positions with the aim of exploring how employers, contractors, regulators and professional advisers can work together to capitalise on the benefits of technological advances in the construction sector. Moderator: <ul style="list-style-type: none">Mr. Adrian Wong – Partner, Energy, Projects and Infrastructure, CMS Singapore Speakers: <ol style="list-style-type: none">Mr. Christopher Chuah – Partner, WongPartnership LLP, SingaporeIr. About our Keynote Speaker

Dr. John Keung Chairman, BCA Centre of Sustainable Buildings

Dubbed the architect of the green building movement in Singapore, Dr John Keung is the first Southeast Asian to be conferred the Chairman's Award by the World Green Building Council in 2015. He was also named one of the Top 25 Newsmakers of the Year 2013 by Engineering News-Record (ENR), USA and received the prestigious Green Visionary Award from the Singapore Green Building Council in 2017 for pioneering the green building movement in Singapore. He was awarded the Public Administration Medal (Gold) by the Singapore Government in 2011 for his contributions to public administration.

Currently, Dr Keung is the Chairman of the BCA Centre of Sustainable Buildings, a centre established in collaboration with the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP). He also helms the BCA Academy as its Dean. Prior to his current appointments, he served as the Chief Executive Officer of Singapore's Building and Construction Authority (BCA) for 11 years till 2017. Under his leadership, BCA moved Singapore into the position of a global leader in green buildings in the tropics, raised construction productivity drastically by a cumulative 12% from 2010 to 2017 and transformed its built environment sector into one that is sustainable, digitally and technologically advanced through the adoption of Design for Manufacturing and Assembly (DfMA) and Integrated Digital Delivery (IDD). Dr Keung also transformed the former Construction Industry Training Institute (CITI) which focused on training of workers into the current BCA Academy that focusses on the training of the professional, managerial, executive and technical (PMET) workforce.

Dr Keung was the Deputy CEO (Building) and Acting Chief Executive Officer the Housing and Development Board (HDB) from 2001 to 2006, overseeing new town planning, design, construction and management, the various upgrading programmes for the existing public housing estates, related infrastructure and reclamation works as well as contract and project management.

Prior to joining HDB, he was the Deputy CEO and Deputy Chief Planner of the Urban Redevelopment Authority (URA), responsible for the formulation of the 1991 and 2001 Singapore Concept Plans, the successive Master Plans, strategic planning and development control matters as well as the implementation of the world's first Electronic Development Application (EDA) system, enabling electronic submission for planning approval anywhere, anytime.

Dr Keung held senior management positions in other public agencies such as the Ministry of National Development (MND) and the Planning Department. He also served as the co-Executive Director of the Clean Energy Programme Office (CEPO), Economic Development Board (EDB) and as chairman and board members of a number of agencies and institutes such as the Solar Energy Research Institute Singapore (SERIS) and the BCA International.

Dr Keung holds Adjunct Professorships in the National University of Singapore (NUS), the Nanyang Technological University (NTU) and the Singapore University of Social Sciences (SUSS). He is currently the Chairman of the Built Environment Cluster Advisory Committee, SUSS, a member of the College Advisory Board, College of Engineering, NTU and a member of the Architecture and Sustainable Design Advisory Committee, Singapore University of Technology and Design (SUTD). He also serves as a Senior Fellow of the URA Academy, an Adjunct Senior Fellow of the SUTD Academy and a Fellow of the Centre for Livable Cities. He is a frequent keynote speaker on many built environment, housing and urban planning topics in local and international conferences, besides green building and construction productivity.

Dr Keung is a Chartered Town Planner, Royal Town Planning Institute (RTPI), UK and a Fellow of the Singapore Institute of Planners (SIP). He earned his PhD in Town Planning from the University of Wales, UK and completed the Advanced Management Programmes (AMPs) in both INSEAD, Fontainebleau, France and Stanford University, California, USA.

Ir. Ronan Collins
Executive Director, AECOM, Malaysia

As a digital engineering specialist, Ronan is known as a BIM Manager (Building Information Management). His background is in engineering design management. He enjoys leading teams of engineers and technicians to produce detailed designs and buildable solutions as part of the delivery of complex infrastructure projects. As a chartered structural engineer, he is a strong believer in providing smart engineering solutions using digital construction processes.

As an accomplished speaker, he always enjoys interacting and engaging with people on a wide variety of construction and engineering topics. He is always willing to share my knowledge, experiences (good and bad) and guidance on the best project specifications, training and technical support for people who are new to digital engineering. Given a chance to speak at conferences, he openly shares my ideas and suggestions on how to get the maximum value from BIM.

My passion is construction. I'm always enthralled with how architects, engineers and contractors solve complex challenges to devise methods of constructing complex buildings like airports or underground railways within tight budgets and often fast time tables. Having moved from Hong Kong to Kuala Lumpur in 2016 with his family, he joined AECOM as the BIM Manager for the Underground Works for the KVMRT Line 2 SSP project. He is responsible for the development of the BIM system for 10 underground stations, tunnels and associated ancillary structures.
