Common issues in trading contracts

A practical and interactive session explaining how to deal with day-to-day issues arising in trading contracts, including:

- Trade confirmations: what happens when no 'main' contract document is agreed and significant terms are not clearly agreed between the parties?
- Battle of the forms: what happens when both parties want to rely on their own standard terms and how do you avoid contracting on the other party's terms?
- LOIs: when do owners/counterparts have a right to an LOI? When can an LOI be refused? What are the potential enforcement issues with LOIs? What do common LOI terms mean and how do they operate?

Our panel will discuss common issues arising in these areas and will give practical advice, with reference to recent case law, on what action to take to protect your business interests.
