AI in International Arbitration: What is it, Where are the issues, What is the future?

11:00 -12:30 • Wednesday 5 June 2024

In-person or Virtual

(Followed by networking lunch)

Members Katherine Apps KC, Jonathan Bellamy, Jennifer Thelen, along with Nick Ellison (Kroll) and Eimear McCann (TrialView) will discuss on AI and the Law in the context of International Arbitration, specifically:

- What is AI (and what it isn't)?
- Key legal issues for those using AI in an arbitration context (including GDPR, confidentiality, licensing, fairness, non-discrimination and process flows);
- Key technological issues (ie what broadly is out there technologically and the issue of "guardrails" and protecting confidentiality in the context of generative AI);
- Issues of forum, regulatory overlap, jurisdictional overlap and territoriality; and
- What is the future?

LIDW24

Developments in international arbitration in the MENA region continue apace. With new arbitration laws; new rules and the ongoing extensive investment in mega projects across the region now is the time to update your knowledge of latest developments in the region.

In this practical session, the Panel discussion will include:

- the launch of the new arbitration centre in Abu Dhabi
- the introduction of the Civil Transactions law in KSA and its impact on arbitration
- the latest on DIAC rules and recent cases from Dubai Courts on arbitral award enforcement
- what progress is being made in ADR, including mediation and dispute boards

And much more

Hear from our panel of experts, active in the region - Vivek Kapoor; Lindy Patterson KC; Marion Smith KC; Adam Robb KC all from 39 Essex Chambers and Sami Tannous, Freshfields and Court Member, arbitrateAD.

Will I see you in Court? Integrating Mediation into Court Systems: a global view on opportunities and challenges focusing on International Dispute Resolution in London

16:00 – 17:30 • Thursday 6 June 2024

In-person or Virtual
(Followed by drinks reception)

LIDW24

39 Essex Chambers
81 Chancery Lane
WC2A 1DD

A cross-jurisdictional analysis and discussion of the role that mediation plays in different court systems around the world, the direction of travel and what opportunities and challenges lie ahead as London moves to further integrate mediation with litigations.

The Panel will look at key questions currently facing different court systems, which include:

- What place does mediation have in the relevant court system?
- Are there plans for further integration?
- What works? What doesn't?

Jurisdictions anticipated to be covered are UK, India, New Zealand amongst others.

Around the world in 90 Minutes: a comparative view of shareholder and joint venture disputes through the English lens

16:00 – 17:30

Wednesday 5 June 2024

In-person only

LIDW24

RPC London
Tower Bridge House,
St Katharine's Way, London E1W 1AA

Regardless of jurisdiction, a shareholder or joint venture relationship is like a marriage. The stakeholders are intertwined in so many ways and disputes are hence likely to be lengthy, complex and acrimonious. In this session, we will compare the approaches by different jurisdictions towards the resolution of shareholder and joint venture disputes.

Some questions which the panel will consider:

- Is there a one-size-fits-all approach towards handling such disputes across different jurisdictions?
- What part do different cultures and business customs play in resolving international disputes?
- What makes the English courts and English law uniquely positioned for such disputes – if at all?

India: What are the legal and dispute implications, given the likely continued growth and stability in the economic and political landscapes

14:00 – 15:30 • Thursday 6 June 2024
In-person only

LIDW24

International Dispute Resolution Centre (IDRC)
1 Paternoster Lane
EC4M 7BQ

The discussion will focus on:

- Elections 2024: with a victory for Modi & the BJP almost certain, political continuity is effectively assured, at least at the national level.
- Economy 2024 (and beyond): with macro political continuity, India is likely to continue enjoying its economic growth story, attracting even more interest from private investors (with the added boost that many firms continue to hedge against their China exposure).
- Legal implications: will there be further aperture of the Indian legal market to foreign firms? Or will the status quo be maintained?
- Disputes implications: with more interest and capital flowing into India, but the ongoing operational complexities, are we likely to see a growing number of disputes? And if so, what are the best routes to resolution?
